All this was decided recently by he city administration when the offer of last year to plow free of the offer from the city water com missioner to supply water to was gardeners at half price.

Last year's national war garden value was $525,000,000 and of this Denver economists had their full share with the co-operation of the ity. There is every indication, acand ug to city officals, that the umber of war gardens this year will approach the number of 1918 ecause of continued high prices of odstuffs. But the increase in build is said, will prevent the 1919 ecord equalling that of the previous
